

YOUR PERSONAL AI ROADMAP · THE CREATIVE AMPLIFIER

The Creative Amplifier

Premium Playbook

"Your ideas have been living in your head for long enough. This is the plan that gets them into the world — and earns from them."

● The Visual Creator

◆ The Content Creator

◆ The Audio Creator

▣ The Writer

What this playbook is not: a guide to replacing your creativity with AI.

What it is: your exact roadmap for closing the gap between the vision in your head and the finished work in the world — and turning that work into income. Your creativity is the product. AI is the production studio.

Who you are. And what has been living too long in your notes app.

You see the world differently. You notice things other people walk past. You find beauty in unexpected places and feel compelled to capture it, transform it, and share it in a way that makes other people feel something. That is not a hobby trait. It is a rare and extraordinary intelligence that the world needs more of.

But here is what has been happening. The ideas come fast. The vision is clear. The execution, the gap between what lives in your imagination and what you can actually produce with the time, resources, and technical knowledge you have, has always been slower than the ideas themselves. So the notes app fills up. The voice memos accumulate. The creative project that has been "almost ready" for longer than you want to admit stays almost ready.

This is not a discipline problem. It is an infrastructure problem. You have been trying to run a full production studio inside your own head, with no crew, no equipment that matches your standards, and no system that keeps up with the pace of your imagination.

AI is your production crew. Not the creative director. You. Always you. But the part that was always too slow, too expensive, or too technically demanding to close the gap between vision and reality — AI handles that now. This playbook shows you exactly how.

The shift Creative Amplifiers need: "The world does not need a perfect version of your work. It needs your real version. The ideas in your notes app are not waiting to be perfect. They are waiting to exist. There is a difference. This guide closes the gap."

2

Which Creative Amplifier are you?

Creative Amplifiers create in four primary modes. Your imagination and your standards are the same across all four. What differs is the medium, the audience, and the specific income model that maps to how you create.

The Visual Creator

THE IMAGE AND FILM MAKER

You work in images, film, design, photography, or visual storytelling. Your eye for composition, colour, and emotional resonance is what you are selling. AI closes the production gap so you can make more of what you see in your mind.

$2k to $20k/month potential

The Content Creator

THE DIGITAL STORYTELLER

You build audiences on social platforms. Your creativity, your personality, and your specific perspective on the world is the product. AI handles the production volume so you can show up consistently without burning out between every creative sprint.

$1k to $30k/month potential

The Audio Creator

THE VOICE AND SOUND BUILDER

You create through sound: podcasts, music, voice work, audio storytelling. You have a voice and a way of using it that people want to listen to. AI handles editing, transcription, repurposing, and distribution. You create the content.

$1k to $15k/month potential

The Writer

THE WORD ARCHITECT

You write. Articles, books, screenplays, essays, newsletters, copy. Your perspective and your way of putting words together is something people pay for. AI handles research, structuring, editing suggestions, and distribution. You write the words.

$2k to $25k/month potential

3

Your 6 natural strengths. And why AI makes each one commercially viable.

Original Vision

You see things that do not exist yet and make them real. That origination, that ability to conceive something from nothing, is what no AI can replicate. It is entirely human.

AI builds what you see. You conceive what gets built.

Emotional Resonance

Your work makes people feel something. Not just understand something. Feel it. That emotional intelligence embedded in creative work is the difference between content and art.

AI handles the production. You carry the feeling.

Eye for Detail

You notice what is off. What is slightly wrong. What needs one more revision to be right. Your standards are high and that is not a weakness. It is your quality control.

AI produces at volume. You curate what lands.

Aesthetic Intelligence

You know what looks right, sounds right, and reads right without always being able to explain why. That taste is trained over years of consumption and creation. It cannot be shortcut.

AI generates options. Your aesthetic selects the right one.

Idea Generation

Ideas come to you constantly. Often at the worst times. The problem has never been ideas. It has been the gap between the idea and the finished, shareable, monetizable thing.

AI closes the production gap. Your ideas finally have a runway.

Unique Voice

You have a specific, recognizable way of seeing and expressing the world. That voice is your brand. The more consistently you put it into the world, the more valuable it becomes.

AI helps you show up consistently. Your voice compounds.

Step zero: The Cognitive Interview Protocol.

Creative Amplifiers often resist this step because it feels like constraining something that should be free and instinctive. The opposite is true. Training your AI on your specific aesthetic, your voice, and your creative philosophy means every output it generates will amplify your style, not flatten it into something generic.

Record an 8-minute voice memo. Speak freely about: the work you make and why, the creators who have influenced you most, the specific feeling you want your audience to have, a piece of work you are most proud of and what made it right, what you are building in the next 12 months, and what you want to earn from your creativity.

MASTER PROMPT · THE CREATIVE AMPLIFIER COGNITIVE INTERVIEW ENGINE

Run this first. Everything else builds on it.

Attached is a raw voice transcript of my creative perspective, my aesthetic philosophy, my influences, the work I make, and my goals and aspirations.

Act as my Creative Director and Brand Architect. Before we produce anything, your task is to deeply understand my creative DNA — how I see the world, what I am trying to say with my work, and what I am building toward.

Read the transcript and ask me 10 deeply thoughtful questions to understand:

- My specific aesthetic sensibility: what I am drawn to and what I reject
- The emotional experience I want my audience to have
- My creative influences and what I have taken from each one
- My goals and income aspirations for my creative work in the next 12 months
- What has historically blocked me from finishing and sharing my work
- The specific format, medium, or type of work I most want to focus on
- How I want my brand to feel to someone encountering it for the first time

After I answer, write my Creative Amplifier Profile: my aesthetic sensibility, my creative voice, my target audience, the emotional experience my work creates, my income goals, and my creative non-negotiables.

Use this as my permanent AI baseline. Every piece of content you generate for me must reflect this profile — not generic creative writing, but my specific aesthetic.

Paste into Claude (claude.ai — recommended) or ChatGPT Premium. Paste your transcript above. Answer the 10 questions honestly. This session means every output from here forward will sound and feel like you, not like AI.

CREATIVE AI PARTNER

Claude · claude.ai

Your creative thinking partner, script writer, and brand voice keeper

Tell Claude about the idea you are trying to execute and it helps you think it through, structure it, and articulate what you are going for. Describe the feeling you want to create and it helps you reverse-engineer the content that creates it. After the Cognitive Interview, Claude writes in your voice — for captions, scripts, newsletters, show notes, and anything else your creative brand needs.

Best for: script writing, caption writing, newsletter content, show notes, creative brief structuring, brand copy, repurposing voice memos into content

VIDEO CREATION AND EDITING

CapCut · capcut.com

Professional video editing without the learning curve

CapCut's AI features handle auto-captions, background removal, scene transitions, and audio syncing in minutes. You record your content. CapCut handles the edit. For Visual Creators and Content Creators especially, this compresses a 3-hour editing session into 30 minutes without sacrificing the quality of the final video.

Best for: short-form video editing, Reels, TikTok, YouTube Shorts, talking-head content, captions, b-roll assembly

FREE CORE FEATURES

Alternatives: DaVinci Resolve · Adobe Premiere · Descript

AUDIO PRODUCTION AND PODCAST

Descript · descript.com

Edit audio and video by editing text — your most powerful production shortcut

Descript transcribes your recording the moment it is done. Then you edit the transcript like a document — delete a word, it disappears from the audio and video too. AI removes filler words, background noise, and silences automatically. For Audio Creators and anyone who records video, this tool makes professional-quality editing accessible in a completely new way.

Best for: podcast editing, video editing by transcript, removing filler words, creating audiograms and clips, repurposing long-form to short-form

VISUAL DESIGN AND GRAPHICS

Canva AI · canva.com

From concept to finished visual in minutes, no design degree needed

Describe what you want visually and Canva AI generates it. Edit it to match your exact aesthetic. For Visual Creators, Canva AI dramatically accelerates the gap between the visual you see in your head and the finished graphic that exists on screen. Combined with Claude for copy, this is your complete content production line.

Best for: social media graphics, carousels, YouTube thumbnails, poster design, brand assets, presentation decks, merch mockups

EMAIL MARKETING AND AUDIENCE

Beehiiv · beehiiv.com

The audience you own. Your most valuable long-term creative asset.

Every person who connects with your creative work needs a way to stay in your world regardless of what any platform algorithm does. Beehiiv is where they sign up for your newsletter. Claude writes the content in your voice. You review and send. Your most loyal audience lives here — the people who will buy your digital products, attend your events, and share your work.

Best for: weekly creative updates, digital product launches, behind-the-scenes content, building a monetizable audience you own

FREE TO 2,500 SUBSCRIBERS

Alternatives: Substack · Kit (ConvertKit) · Mailchimp

DIGITAL PRODUCT SALES

Gumroad · gumroad.com

Sell your creative work directly. No middleman. No algorithm.

You upload your digital product: a preset pack, a photography guide, a short film, a design template, an essay collection, a course. You share the link. Someone buys it. The money goes directly to you. Gumroad handles the transaction, the download, and the receipt. Your creative work earns while you are asleep or working on the next thing.

Best for: digital products, preset packs, template libraries, e-books, photo collections, short films, creative courses

FREE TO SET UP · 10% FEE PER SALE

Alternatives: Payhip · Lemon Squeezy · Kajabi

AUTOMATION HUB

Make.com · make.com

Automate the distribution and delivery that steals your creative time

Someone buys your Gumroad product — Make.com sends them to your Beehiiv list, delivers a personalised welcome email, and adds them to your CRM. Your new YouTube video goes live — Make.com creates a social post, adds a newsletter mention, and logs the upload. You build these automations once. They run every time so you stay in creative mode instead of distribution mode.

Best for: purchase confirmation flows, content distribution sequences, audience tagging, social cross-posting

◆ Idea to Finished Content Brief

All personas

Use when you have a creative idea but are not sure how to structure or execute it. The messier your description, the better this prompt works.

I have a creative idea I want to execute but I need help making it clear and actionable.

Here is the raw idea: [describe it as messily and honestly as you want — what you see, what you feel, what you are trying to say]

My medium: [video / photography / writing / podcast / design / mixed]

My audience: [who this is for]

My creative profile: [paste relevant section from your Creative Amplifier Profile]

Help me:

1. Clarify the central idea in one sentence: what this piece is actually about
2. Identify the emotional experience the audience should have from start to finish
3. Outline the structure: opening, middle, and close — or the visual arc if it is not linear
4. Name the single strongest element I should lead with
5. Identify what is not necessary and can be cut or saved for another piece
6. Write the hook: the first line, frame, or image that makes someone stop and pay attention

Give me a clear brief I can pick up and start executing from today.

◆ Repurpose One Piece into Six

Content Creator · Writer

Paste in any piece of finished work: an essay, a video transcript, a podcast episode transcript. Get six pieces of derivative content.

I want to repurpose this finished piece of work into multiple formats:

[PASTE YOUR CONTENT HERE — video transcript, essay, podcast episode, long caption]

My creative voice: [paste relevant section from your Creative Amplifier Profile]

My audience: [who follows me]

Create:

1. Instagram carousel: 7 slides. Hook slide + 5 insight slides + closing invitation
2. Short-form video script: 60 seconds. Opens with the most arresting line from the piece.
3. Twitter/X thread: 6 tweets. One insight per tweet. Conversational, not academic.
4. LinkedIn post: 250 words. Opens personal, goes deeper, ends with a question.
5. Email newsletter section: 200 words. Behind-the-scenes take on what I was thinking when I made this.
6. Pull-quote graphic text: 3 standalone quotes from this piece, formatted as single image captions.

Keep my voice throughout. Do not smooth out the rough edges. My audience likes the raw version.

◆ Monetise Your Creative Work

All personas

Use to identify specific ways to earn from creative work you are already producing.

I want to start earning money from my creative work.

What I currently create: [describe your creative output — type, format, how often, where you share it]

My audience size and platform: [describe who follows you and where]

My creative profile: [paste relevant section from your Creative Amplifier Profile]

What I have never charged for: [describe the work or knowledge you give away for free]

Help me identify:

1. Three specific digital products I could create from work I have already made or knowledge I already have
2. The right price point for each, based on the value to my audience
3. One service offer I could sell directly to brands or businesses using my creative skills
4. How to position my first paid offer so it feels like a natural extension of what I already share for free
5. The order in which I should launch these: which one to do first and why

I want to earn from my creativity without making my creative work feel transactional. Help me find the line.

◆ Brand Partnership Pitch

Content Creator · Visual Creator

Use to pitch a brand for a collaboration or sponsored content deal. Fill in with specific brand details.

I want to pitch [brand name] for a partnership or sponsored content collaboration.

About the brand: [describe them — what they sell, who their audience is, their brand values]

About me and my audience: [describe your creative work, audience size, engagement, and who follows you]

The collaboration I am proposing: [describe the specific type of content, format, and deliverables]

My creative profile: [paste relevant section from your Creative Amplifier Profile]

Write a partnership pitch that:

1. Opens by naming the specific connection between my audience and their brand — genuine, not manufactured
2. Shows that I understand what they are trying to achieve, not just what I want from them
3. Proposes one specific collaboration idea with clear creative direction and deliverables
4. Includes a brief media kit summary: my audience, reach, engagement rate (I will fill in numbers)
5. Suggests a starting investment range and what they receive for it
6. Ends with one low-friction next step

Make it feel like a creative proposal from a peer, not a sales pitch from a vendor. Brands receive hundreds of those.

◆ Weekly Content Calendar

Content Creator · Writer

Use to plan a week of content in advance. Takes 20 minutes. Removes decision fatigue for the entire week.

I need a content plan for the next 7 days.

My creative focus this week: [a theme, a project you are working on, or a feeling you want to explore]

My platforms: [list the platforms you post on]

My audience: [describe who follows you]

My current offer or product: [what you are building toward or inviting people to]

My creative profile: [paste relevant section from your Creative Amplifier Profile]

Create a 7-day content calendar that includes:

1. One piece of content per day: the format, the central idea, and the hook line
2. A natural content arc across the week: each day builds on or contrasts with the previous
3. One day of behind-the-scenes or process content — showing how the work gets made
4. One day that directly or indirectly references my current offer without it feeling forced
5. Specific captions or scripts for any two of the seven pieces in full

I want the week to feel like a coherent creative statement, not seven disconnected posts.

◆ Digital Product Concept and Launch Plan

All personas

Use to go from a vague product idea to a specific launch plan in one session.

I want to create and launch a digital product from my creative work.

My creative field and what I make: [describe your work]

The idea I have for the product: [describe it — even if it is vague]

Who would buy this: [describe the specific person who would pay for this]

What I want to charge: [your target price]

My current audience: [where they are and approximately how many]

Help me:

1. Refine the product idea into a specific, compelling offer with a clear title and one-line description
2. Define exactly what is included: the format, the number of files, pages, or assets
3. Write a product description for my Gumroad listing (150 to 200 words, written in my voice)
4. Design a 7-day launch plan: what content to post each day leading up to the launch
5. Write the launch email to my list: 300 words, personal, the story behind why I made this

I want to launch within 14 days. Make this plan specific enough that I can pick it up and start immediately.

◆ Podcast Episode Planning and Show Notes

Audio Creator

Use to plan an upcoming episode and produce all surrounding content in one session. Works for solo episodes and guest interviews.

I need to plan and produce content around a podcast episode.

Episode topic or guest: [describe the subject, the angle you want to take, or who the guest is and what they do]

The core question this episode answers: [what does the listener leave understanding that they did not before?]

My show tone and audience: [describe who listens, what they come to the show for, and how the show sounds]

My creative profile: [paste relevant section from your Creative Amplifier Profile]

Provide:

1. An episode outline: opening hook, three to four core segments, and a closing moment or takeaway
2. Five specific questions to ask the guest, or five angles to explore if it is a solo episode
3. Three episode title options from different angles: one built on curiosity, one on clarity, one on emotion
4. Full show notes for the episode page: 250 to 350 words, written in my voice, not a dry summary
5. A 60-word episode description formatted for Spotify, Apple Podcasts, and the podcast feed
6. Three short pull-quote captions I can use on social media drawn directly from the episode content

Make the show notes feel like a continuation of my creative voice. A listener who reads them should feel the same as one who heard the episode.

◆ Long-Form Writing: Article, Essay, or Chapter

Writer

Use when you need to write a substantial piece and want a structured approach that does not flatten your voice into something generic.

I need to write a long-form piece and I want help structuring it without losing what makes my writing mine.

What I am writing: [article, personal essay, book chapter, column, or script with approximate length]

The central idea: [what this piece is about at its core, one to two sentences, as honest and raw as possible]

The emotional experience I want the reader to have: [what they should feel as they read it, not just understand]

Where it will live: [the platform, publication, or context and who will read it]

My writing style: [paste relevant section from your Creative Amplifier Profile]

Help me:

1. Write a structural outline: opening, body sections with the specific purpose of each, and a close
2. Draft the opening paragraph: the one that determines whether a reader continues or stops
3. Identify the single most powerful image, story, or line to anchor the entire piece around
4. Name two or three places where most writers play it safe and I should push further
5. Write the closing paragraph: the one that stays with the reader after they have finished

Do not write the full piece yet. Give me the architecture and the most critical moments. I will write the rest in my own voice.

Income paths built for Creative Amplifiers.

PATH	WHAT YOU ACTUALLY DO	WHO IT FITS	REALISTIC INCOME
Digital Product Creator	You package your creative skills into products people buy: preset packs, template libraries, guides, courses. You build once and sell to many. AI builds the marketing around it.	Visual Writer	$500 to $10k/month
Brand Content Partner	Brands pay you to create content that feels native to their audience. Your creative credibility is the product. AI helps you pitch, produce, and deliver faster than any agency.	Content Visual	$1k to $10k per deal
Paid Newsletter or Community	You share your creative perspective consistently. Your audience grows. You launch a paid tier or community. Claude writes the weekly content. You bring the vision and voice.	Writer Content	$500 to $8k/month
Podcast Monetisation	Sponsors pay to be in front of your audience. Your creative voice and consistent audience are the product. Descript handles editing. Claude writes the show notes and clips.	Audio	$500 to $5k per episode at scale
Freelance Creative Services	You create for clients: photography, video production, writing, design. AI handles client communication, proposals, and post-production. You create. AI manages the business around it.	Visual Writer	$2k to $15k/month
Creative Education	You teach your craft. Online course, workshop, mentorship. AI builds the curriculum structure and handles marketing. You deliver the expertise and the creative perspective.	Visual Audio Writer	$1k to $20k/launch

Visual Premium

$2k to $20k/month

Your eye and your aesthetic are the product. AI accelerates every part of production except the creative decision itself.

- Freelance photography or video: $500 to $3,000 per project
- Brand content partnership: $1,000 to $10,000 per campaign
- Preset or template pack: $27 to $197 per pack
- Photo or film licensing: $200 to $5,000 per licence

THE CONTENT CREATOR

Audience Leverage

$1k to $30k/month

Your audience is the asset. AI keeps you consistent enough to build it. Once built, income comes from multiple directions simultaneously.

- Brand deals: $500 to $10,000 per post at scale
- Paid community: $49 to $99/month per member
- Digital products: $27 to $497 per product
- Platform ad revenue: variable, grows with audience

THE AUDIO CREATOR

Voice Value

$1k to $15k/month

Your voice and your perspective are rare. A loyal listening audience pays in multiple ways once you have built the habit of showing up for them consistently.

- Podcast sponsorships: $25 to $50 per 1,000 downloads
- Premium podcast tier: $5 to $20/month per subscriber
- Voiceover and audio work: $500 to $3,000 per project
- Audio course or masterclass: $97 to $500

THE WRITER

Words as Equity

$2k to $25k/month

Your perspective and your craft compound over time. Every piece you publish adds to a body of work that attracts new readers, clients, and opportunities.

- Paid newsletter: $7 to $20/month per subscriber
- Ghostwriting: $2,000 to $10,000 per project
- Brand copywriting: $1,000 to $5,000 per project
- Book advance or self-publishing: variable

Your 90-day Creative Amplifier operating system.

The Creative Amplifier's version of this plan has one rule the others do not: output goes first. Before income. Before audience. Before systems. The work is the foundation. Everything else is built on top of it.

01

PHASE 1 · DAYS 1 TO 30

Foundation: Show up. Finish things. Let the work exist.

Goal: 20+ pieces of finished, published work. First paid offer conceived.

The biggest mistake Creative Amplifiers make in Phase 1 is trying to monetize before they have established a consistent creative presence. The creative output is the foundation. Without it, there is nothing to sell. This month is about volume. Finished and published beats perfect and private.

WEEK 1 · SET UP

- Run the Cognitive Interview Protocol. Store your Creative Amplifier Profile.
- Create: Claude, Canva, Beehiiv, Gumroad, CapCut or Descript (based on your medium)
- Use Prompt 5 to plan your first week of content
- Publish one piece of work on day 3. Not perfect. Real.
- Set up your Beehiiv account. Write your first welcome email.

WEEK 2 TO 3 · VOLUME

- Publish every day or every other day using Prompt 5 for planning
- Use Prompt 2 to repurpose each piece into 6 formats
- Record one voice memo per day about your creative process or perspective
- Ask Claude to turn 3 of your best voice memos into Beehiiv emails
- Add your Beehiiv link to every profile and piece of content

WEEK 4 · FIRST OFFER

- Use Prompt 3 to identify your first monetizable product from existing work
- Use Prompt 6 to plan the product and launch sequence
- Build the product using Claude and Canva
- List it on Gumroad at a founding price ($9 to $47)
- Send one email to your Beehiiv list announcing it

PHASE 1 TARGET $200 to $800

First product live. Publishing habit established.

02

PHASE 2 · DAYS 31 TO 60

Scale: Build the audience. Refine the offer.

Goal: Growing list. First brand or client inquiry.

You have a publishing habit and a product. Phase 2 is about amplifying your reach so more of the right people find you. The repurposing system means your effort multiplies. Every piece of work becomes multiple touchpoints across multiple platforms.

WEEK 5 TO 6 · AMPLIFY

- Use Prompt 2 to repurpose every piece into all 6 formats every week
- Post to at least two platforms consistently using your repurposed content
- Set up Make.com: new Gumroad buyer → Beehiiv subscriber + welcome email
- Reach out to 3 creators in adjacent spaces for a collaboration or feature swap
- Write your Beehiiv email every week without fail

WEEK 7 TO 8 · OUTREACH

- Use Prompt 4 to pitch 3 brands whose audience overlaps with yours
- Post testimonials or buyer responses from your first product launch
- Raise the price of your first product by 50% and announce the change
- Launch a second product or an upgraded version using Prompt 6
- Track: which content drove the most profile visits and list sign-ups?

CONSISTENCY · ONGOING

- Plan each week in advance using Prompt 5. Do this every Sunday.
- Never skip a publishing day. Imperfect and published beats perfect and private.
- Respond to every comment personally for the first 6 months
- Track your list growth weekly. Celebrate every new subscriber.
- Make one video per week that shows your face and your voice

PHASE 2 TARGET $800 to $3,000/month

Growing list. Multiple products. First brand deal.

03

PHASE 3 · DAYS 61 TO 90

Leverage: Build income that scales with your audience

Goal: Recurring income. A community or premium tier started.

By Phase 3 you have a body of work, a growing audience, and proven products. Now you build the income structures that grow with your audience rather than with your hours. A community. A premium newsletter tier. A course. One thing that compounds.

WEEK 9 TO 10 · BUILD

- Use Prompt 3 to design your highest-value product or offer yet
- Outline a course or community using Claude from your existing content
- Price it properly: between $97 and $497 for a course, $49/month for community
- Create a 5-day launch content series using Prompt 5
- Write a 3-email launch sequence to your Beehiiv list using Claude

WEEK 11 · LAUNCH

- Send your launch email series over 3 days
- Offer a founding member rate for the first 20 buyers
- Go live on your platform once this week: talk about the launch, your process, your work
- Post daily during launch week. One post per platform minimum.
- Follow up personally with anyone who expressed interest but did not buy

WEEK 12 · REVIEW

- Review: what content drove the most buyers? Make more of that.
- What is the most consistent income source you have built? Double down on it.
- Plan your next 90 days: what is the creative project you most want to ship?
- Map your income streams: products, brand deals, community, services. Which grows next?
- Write one detailed creative case study of your journey from start to this point

PHASE 3
TARGET$3,000 to $10,000/
month

Multiple income streams. Community or premium tier started.

THE VISUAL CREATOR · FILMMAKER

"I had the same film in my head for nine years. Not vaguely. Specifically. I could tell you the opening shot, the soundtrack, the dialogue in the pivotal scene. I had tried to make it three times. Each time the production cost made it feel impossible before I started. I found the right tools. I made a four-minute short on my phone. 80,000 views in the first month. Then the brand deals started."

"I had been writing essays in private for years. For me, basically. A friend read one and said: I would pay for this. I set up a Beehiiv newsletter. Claude helped me write the weekly edition in my voice. Within 90 days I had 2,400 subscribers. I launched a paid tier at $9/month. 187 people upgraded in the first week. That is $1,683 a month from writing I was already doing for free."

The traps your archetype falls into.

Waiting until the work is ready

I need one more revision before I share this. It is almost there.

◆ Fix: The work in your head will always be better than the work in the world. That is not a sign it is not ready. That is the nature of creative vision. The version you publish is not the final version of your capability. It is the version that gets your work in front of the people who need it. Publish it.

Skipping the Cognitive Interview because creativity should be free

Training an AI on my aesthetic will make my work feel less authentic.

◆ Fix: The opposite is true. Without the profile, every output will sound like generic creative writing. With it, Claude produces content that sounds specifically like you. Your aesthetic is amplified, not diluted. Section 4 first. Always.

Creating without distributing

The work will find its audience when it is good enough.

◆ Fix: The work you made last month is sitting in a folder no one knows exists. Distribution is not a betrayal of the creative process. It is the last mile of it. Use Prompt 2 every single time you finish a piece. Get it in front of people.

Confusing engagement with income

My posts get great engagement so I must be building toward something.

◆ Fix: Engagement is a signal, not income. The transition from audience to income requires one specific thing: an offer. Use Prompt 3 to identify your first product. Get it live. Your audience is already there. Give them something to buy.

Making for everyone instead of for someone specific

I do not want to narrow my audience. My work could resonate with anyone.

◆ Fix: The work that tries to speak to everyone speaks most powerfully to no one. The most beloved creative brands are deeply specific. The specificity is what creates the "this was made for me" feeling that turns a viewer into a loyal buyer.
